Lingua Franca Nova (abbreviated as LFN or Elefen) is an auxiliary constructed language originally created by C. George Boeree of Shippensburg University, Pennsylvania<sup>[3]</sup> Its vocabulary is based on the Romance languagesFrench, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, and Catalan.<sup>[4]</sup> The grammar is highly reduced and similar to the Romance creoles, and is easily comprehensible and learned.<sup>[4][5][6]</sup> The language has phonemic spelling, using 22 letters of either the Latin or Cyrillic scripts.<sup>[4][5]</sup>

History and community

Boeree was inspired<sup>[4]</sup> by the Mediterranean Lingua Franca, a pidgin used in the Mediterranean in centuries past, and by creoles such as Papiamentu, Haitian Creole, and Bislama. He used French, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish, and Catalan as the basis for his new language.<sup>[4]</sup>

LFN was first presented on the Internet in 1998.<sup>[7][8]</sup> A Yahoo! Group was formed in 2002 by Bjorn Madsen. Group members contributed significantly to the further evolution of the language. In 2007, Igor Vasiljevic began a Facebook page,<sup>[9]</sup> which has over 300 members. LFN was given an ISO 639-3 designation (lfn) by SIL in 2008.<sup>[10]</sup>

Stefan Fisahr<sup>[11]</sup> created a wiki for the language in 2005. The site moved to Wikia in 2009 <sup>[12]</sup> and as of 2015 has over 3000 articles.<sup>[13]</sup> The searchable "master" dictionary (LFN–English / English–LFN) was updated by Simon Davies in 2008, and now has over 20,000 entries.<sup>[14]</sup> There is also a LFN–French dictionary<sup>[15]</sup> and seven small dictionaries available in other languages as well as a Wikibooks tutorial<sup>[16]</sup> in eight languages. Introductions and "LFN for Travellers" are available in 12 languages.<sup>[17]</sup> Complete grammars are available in English, Spanish, French, Finnish, LFN, and Esperanto.<sup>[18]</sup>

Simon Davies's translation of Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland is the first publication of a work entirely in LFN.<sup>[24]</sup>

As of January 1, 2014, LFN has a news blog, maintained by Simon Davies, called Aora Oji ("Now Today"),<sup>[25]</sup> as well as a homepage using the name "Elefen".<sup>[26]</sup> An English-Elefen-English dictionary was published in 2018. The LFN Wikipedia was created (rleased) to the public on April 18, 2018.

Orthography and pronunciation

LFN is normally written using the Latin script. A parallel Cyrillic script is also available.<sup>[4][27]</sup>

LFN alphabet

Latin script	a	b	c	d	e	f	g	h	i	j	l	m	n	o	p	r	s	t	u	v	x	z
Cyrillic script	а	б	к	д	е	ф	г	х	и	ж	л	м	н	о	п	р	с	т	у	в	ш	з
IPA	[a~ɑ]	[b]	[k]	[d]	[e~ɛ]	[f]	[g]	[h]	[i/i]	[ʒ]	[l]	[m]	[n/ɲ]	[o~ɔ]	[p]	[r]	[s]	[t]	[u/w]	[v]	[ʃ]	[z]
Names	a	be	ce	de	e	ef	ge	hax	i	je	el	em	en	o	pe	er	es	te	u	ve	ex	ze

LFN vowels (a, e, i, o and u) are pronounced as they are in Spanish or Italian (approximately as in bar, bait or bet, beet, boat or ball, and boot). Diphthongs are ai [ai~ɑi], au [au~ɑu], eu [eu~ɛu], and oi [oi~ɔi] (approximately as in my, cow, "eh-w", and boy).

The letters i and u are used as semivowels ([j] and [w]) initially before a vowel, between vowels, and in cu and gu before a vowel. The letter n is pronounced as inthink ([ɲ]) before g and c, and in final -ng.

Although stress is not phonemic in LFN, most words are stressed on the vowel or diphthong before the last consonant (e.g. ĠA-sa, a-be-ON, BA-ia). Words with no vowel before the last consonant are accented on the first vowel (e.g. TI-o). Words ending in a diphthong are accented on the diphthong (e.g. ca-CAU). Those ending in the double vowels ae, ao, ea, eo, oa, oe, or ui are accented on the first of these vowels (e.g. i-DE-a). The addition of -s or -es for plural nouns does not alter the stress.

The letters k, q, w, and y are available for words and names from other languages. Variations in pronunciation are acceptable.<sup>[4][28]</sup>

Grammar

LFN is an SVO (subject-verb-object) language. Modifiers generally follow what they modify as do prepositional phrases and subordinate clauses.<sup>[4][29]</sup>

LFN use particles to determine tenses. It has three particles. They are arġa (past), va (future), and ta (conditional).<sup>[30]</sup>

Other than the plural in -s or -es, nouns are invariant. A noun's role in a sentence is determined by word order and prepositions. There are 22 prepositions, such as a (at, to), de (of, from), en (in, into), and con (with).

Nouns are usually preceded by articles (la or un) or other determiners such as esta (this, these), acel (that, those), alga (some), cada (every, each), multe (many, much), and poca (few, little). Possessive determiners, numbers indicating quantity, and the adjectives bon and mal (good and bad) also precede the noun; Numbers indicating order follow the noun. A variety of pronouns are identical to or derived from determiners.

The personal pronouns are invariant:

person	singular	plural
1	me	nos
2	tu	vos
3	el / lo / on	los

El is used for people and higher animals; Lo is used for all else. On is used in the same way as in French or "man" in German.

For the first and second person pronouns, the reflexives are the same as the regular pronouns, and the possessive determiners are mea, nosa, tua, and vosa. To form possessive pronouns, use ela mea, etc.

Se is the third-person reflexive, singular and plural. The third person possessive determiner, both singular and plural, is sua, and the possessive pronoun is la sua.

Verbs are invariant. The verb alone represents the present tense and the infinitive. Other tenses and moods are indicated by preceding particles:

tense/mood	particle	example	translation
present	-	me vade	I go
past	ia	me ia vade	I went future	va	me va vade	I will go
conditional	ta	me ta vade	I would go

Adverbs such as ja (already) and auxiliary verbs such as comensa (begin to) are used to add precision. The active participle ends in -nte and the passive participle in -da. They can be used with es (to be) to form a progressive aspect and a passive voice, respectively

Adjectives are invariant, and adverbs are not distinguished from adjectives. Adjectives follow nouns and adverbs follow verbs but precede adjectives. The comparative is formed with plu or min, the superlative with la plu or la min.

Questions are formed by preceding the sentence with esce or by using one of several "question words", such as cual (what, which), ci (who), do (where), cuando (when), and perce (why).<sup>[31]</sup> These same words are also used to introduce subordinate clauses as are words such assi (if), ce (that), car (because), and afin (so that).

Prepositions include a (at, to), de (of, from), ante (before, in front of), pos (after, behind), etc.

Conjunctions include e (and), o (or), and ma (but).

Complete detailed grammars of LFN are available in English, French, Esperanto, Spanish, and LFN<sup>[32]</sup>

Affixes

LFN has a small number of regular affixes that help to create new words.<sup>[4][29]</sup>

Three suffixes that create nouns are -or, -ador, and -eria, which refer to a person, a device, and a place respectively. They can be added to any noun, adjective, or verb. For example:

- carne (meat) + -or > carnor (butcher)
- lava + -ador > lavador (washing machine)
- flor + -eria > floreteria (florist shop)

Another suffix is -i which, added to an adjective and some nouns, means "to become" or "to cause to become". It is also used with names for tools, machines, or supplies with the meaning "to use". For example:

- calda (hot) + -i > caldi (to heat)
- telefon (telephone) + -i > telefoni (to telephone)

Two more suffixes are -eta, which means a small version of something, and -on, which means a large version of something. (They are not, however, simply synonyms for small and large!) For example:

- bove (cow, cattle) + -eta > boveta (calf)
- tela (cloth) + -on > telon (sheet, tablecloth)

There are also three suffixes that turn nouns into adjectives: -al means "pertaining to...", -in means "similar to...", -osa means "full of..." For example:

- nasion (nation) + -al > nasional (national)
- serpente (serpent) + -in > serpentin (serpentine)
- mofo (mold) + -osa > mofosa (moldy)

Other suffixes include -able (-able), -isme (-ism), and -iste (-ist).

There are also several prefixes. Non- means not, re- means again or in the opposite direction, and des- means to undo. For example:

- non- + felis (happy) > nonfelis (unhappy)
- re- + pone (place) > reponer (replace)
- des- + infeta (infect) > desinfeta (disinfect)

Other prefixes include pos- (post-), pre- (pre-), supra- (super-), su- (sub-), media- (mid-), vis- (vice-), inter- (inter-), and auto- (auto-, self-)

Compounds of verbs plus objects create nouns:

- porta (carry) + candela (candle) > portacandela (candlestick)
- pasa (pass) + tempo (time) > pasatempo (pastime)
- para (stop) + pluve (rain) > parapluve (umbrella)

Two nouns are rarely joined (as they often are in English), but are linked with de or other prepositions instead:

- avia de mar - seabird
- casa per avias - birdhouse
- xef de polisia - police chief

Alisia en la pais de mervelias<sup>[24]</sup>

Alisia comensa deveni multe noiada, sentante a lado de sua sore sur la colineta, con no cosa per ocupa se: a un o du veses, el ia regardeta en la libro cual sua sore leje, ma lo conteni no pitures o conversas, “e cual es la valua de un libro,” Alisia pensa, “sin pitures o conversas?”

Donce el es considerante, en sua mente propre (tan bon como posible, car el senti multe dormosa e stupida par causa de la dia calda), esce la plaser de crea un cadena de margaritas ta compensa per la labon de leva se e colie la margaritas, cuando subita un Coneo Blanca con oios ros pasa corente a sua lado.

No parte de esta es vera multe notable; e Alisia no trova ce lo es vera multe estracomun cuando el oia la Coneo dise a se: “Ai! ai! me va es tro tarda!” (quando Alisia contempla esta a pos, lo pare a el ce el ia debe mervelia a lo, ma aora, a la momento de aveni, tota pare intera natural); Ma, cuando la Coneo prende an un orojeta de sua pox de jaceta, e regarda lo, e alora continua freta, Alisia salta sur sua pedes, car la pensa vola tra sua mente ce el ia vide ja nunca un coneo con o un pox de jaceta, o un orojeta prendable de lo, e con curiosia ardente, el core pos lo en traversa de la campo, e ariva a la bon tempo per vide lo desapare su la sepe en un tunel de coneo grande.

En la momento seguente, Alisia entra pos lo, no considerante an pico como el va sorti posible denova.
