Speech:

Spartakusland draws upon numerous critical frameworks but principally Marxism–Luxemburgism and Bhaskarian critical realism. These have been synthesized—via left refoundation and left regroupment—into The Institute for Dialectical metaRealism™ and The Collective to Fight Neurelitis™. Thus, it goes without saying that I greatly admire both Rosa Luxemburg (1871–1919) and the founder of British critical realism Professor Roy Bhaskar (1944–2014). Supplementary currents include: international socialism, the autonomist antifa movement, Titoism, workers' self–directed coöperative enterprises, De Leonism, and the multi–tendency socialism from below.
